

Dear Member

,

ICAEW and ICPAC invite you to our event entitled **The Future of Banking: Five years since the crisis** which takes place on Wednesday 14 December from 17:00 (registration from 16:30) at the Bank of Cyprus Auditorium, Ayia Paraskevi, Nicosia

The landscape for banks has changed dramatically since the financial crisis. New accounting, regulation and industry-led efforts, alongside rapid technological developments mean business models are changing and banks continue to face a testing time. ICAEW's international thought leadership on improvements to bank financial reporting and auditing, better regulation, increased scrutiny of bank capital and conduct and culture within financial institutions track and challenge where progress is being made.

Andrew Ratcliffe, ICAEW's Immediate Past President and former senior banking partner will outline this work as well as the future agenda which includes:

- The effect of new reporting requirements including IFRS 9
- The role of new technology in empowering customers and reducing information asymmetry
- Potential disruptors to traditional banking business
- The continuing challenges of the regulatory agenda for banks

Our expert panel will then present on developments in Cyprus and a Q&A session follows.

Speakers

- John Hourican, Bank of Cyprus CEO
- Kleanthis Ioannides, Bank Supervisor, Central Bank of Cyprus
- Andrew Ratcliffe, ICAEW Immediate Past President and former senior banking partner
- Demetris Vakis, President of ICPAC and KPMG Board Member

RSVP to **events@icpac.org.cy** or book your place through ICAEW's events webpage.

This event is kindly sponsored by the Bank of Cyprus.

«The Future of Banking: Five years since the crisis»
(Seminar 23/2016)

Wednesday, 14 December 2016 at 5.00pm
at Bank of Cyprus Head Office, Ayia Paraskevi Nicosia

Registration Form

I hereby submit my registration for the above event.

Name:
ICPAC Reg. No.
ICAEW Reg. No. (if a ICAEW member)
Company / Employer
Telephone no.
Email address

Yours truly

.....
Signature

.....
Date